Directions

Public transport

By bus

There are several bus routes which go through Crowborough. You will need to stop at Crowborough Cross and walk down St Johns Road towards The Horder Centre which is approx 1 mile from the main crossroads. We offer patient transport to and from the station if requested in advance.

By train

The nearest train station to The Horder Centre is Crowborough, which is a couple of miles away. We offer patient transport to and from the station if requested in advance.

By car

From the traffic lights in the centre of Crowborough, take the London Road and almost immediately turn left into St. John's Road and continue approximately 1 mile. The Horder Centre entrance is on the left.

Parking charges

Parking at The Horder Centre is free. There is a large patient car park on-site and many of the surrounding roads are unrestricted.
